

What's Your Character's Motive?

What is your Character's Reason WHY?

- Everyone has a reason for behaving in a particular way – the characters in your stories are no different.
- It's your job to answer this question when you're writing. This will add more depth and understanding for your readers. This will help your reader to understand why your character behaves or thinks in a certain way.
- Explaining your character's WHY will help you provide more description to your writing and bring it to life!
